

DONOR PRIVACY POLICY

Tri-State Transportation Campaign appreciates and values all of its donors regardless of type or giving capacity. It is Tri-State's intention to respect each and every donor's wishes regarding privacy. However, Tri-State recognizes individual donors and institutional donors often have different perspectives with respect to privacy. Accordingly:

- Individual donors will remain anonymous and/or not be recognized unless the individual donor makes a direct request to be recognized to Tri-State by phone, email, or in writing.
- Institutional Donors will be made public unless the institutional donor makes a direct request to Tri-State by phone, email, or in writing to be anonymous and/or not to be recognized.

Tri-State will not trade, share, or sell a donor's personal information gathered online or offline with anyone else, nor send donor mailings on behalf of other organizations. Tri-State utilizes donors' personal information such as names, mailing addresses, and email addresses only for purposes of donor acknowledgement (in accordance with the above) and/or when an individual voluntarily opts to join our mailing list. Tri-State never shares a donor's financial information. All current and potential donors are encouraged to contact Tri-State with any questions they might have with this policy.

Questions about the policy or direct requests about privacy should be directed to Zingi Mkefa, 212-268-7474 or zingi@tstc.org.